Fathers will meet

The Committee to Save the Jobless Fathers Program has announced a meeting for Sunday, April 9, at 2:30 p.m.

The meeting will be held at Blair Lake, off U.S. 119 at Partidge between Oven Fork and Cumberland.

Committee chairman Clifton Johnson announced that the Committee would award a $50 door prize at the meeting. He said that free coffee and doughnuts would be served.

Johnson said that he hoped a large turnout of men on the Work Experience and Training Program would attend the meeting, which he said would be "a family affair."

Whitesburg attorney Harry M. Caudill is scheduled to talk to the men, according to Johnson. He said that telegrams have been sent to all the major candidates for Governor inviting them to attend. In addition, Johnson said, a group of WE&T men from West Virginia is planning to come.

The purpose of the meeting, according to Johnson, is to discuss substitute programs being set up to replace the WE&T program on a temporary basis, and to make plans for a permanent group to lobby for a "better plan" to be a permanent replacement for WE&T -- if, as expected, WE&T is eventually broken up.

"We've got a lot of jobs that need to be done in Eastern Kentucky," Johnson said. "We need a program that will get them done. We've got the manpower but it isn't being used."

Funeral rites held for Emit Duncan in Whitesburg

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. March 30 at Moore and Craft Funeral Home for Emit Ben Duncan, 75. The Rev. David Morrow officiated. Burial was in Sandlick Cemetery.

Mr. Duncan died March 28 at the St. Joseph Hospital in Lexington. He had been in ill health for several years.

He was a son of the late Robert Lee and Elizabeth Thompson Duncan.

Widely known as a carpenter and builder, he had constructed many buildings in Letcher County. He had lived in Lexington with his daughter, Mrs. Virginia Roe, since ill health forced his retirement.

Survivors besides his daughter are another daughter, Mrs. Ruby Morrow, Lexington; a son, Robert W. Duncan, Alaska; a sister, Mrs. Ann Carty, Virginia, and eight grandchildren.

KENTUCKY POWER COMPANY crews worked feverishly Tuesday morning to restore service to Whitesburg after a truck had sheared off a high-voltage line on Bentley Avenue. The pole fell into the street but missed passersby and cars; live wires fell across several parked cars -- but they were unoccupied at the time, and nobody was injured. Power was restored to the city within an hour after the accident.

Power pole clipped

Whitesburg was without electric power for several minutes Tuesday morning after a truck collided with a utility pole and sheared it in two.

The pole, located on Bentley Avenue near Bridge Street, fell directly into the street, blocking traffic in and out of the city. A tangle of potentially lethal wires fell on parked cars, houses, and sidewalks. Fortunately, there were no injuries to passersby.

The pole carries high-voltage electrical lines into the city. It broke off approximately two feet above the ground. Retaining cables kept it from falling all the way into the street, but most of the wires snapped, and the top of the pole hung menacingly a foot or two above the street.

Whitesburg Fire Chief Phil Bowen arrived on the scene only a minute or two after the accident and directed traffic into town via Webb Avenue. Sheriff Hogg arrived soon after that and a roadblock was established for traffic into and out of town, detouring cars. Trucks were temporarily ordered to the roadside because live wires were hanging only seven or eight feet above the detour.

Kentucky Power Company crews arrived at the scene a few minutes later. All power into the city was shut down while they removed the hanging wires and towed the broken pole out of the road.

Less than an hour after the accident, power was restored on a temporary basis while a new pole was hoisted into position. Power was off again briefly while connections were made to the new pole.

At least one motorist found a novel way to pass the time while he waited to drive through the detour. An amateur golfer who gives exhibitions throughout Kentucky and other states was behind the truck that sheared the pole. He was driving a large camper-van that was too high to pass under the dangling wires. So he pulled it over to the side of the road, got out, and began driving golf balls out over -- and sometimes into -- the Kentucky River nearby. He kept this up until the power crew had cleared the wires away some fifteen minutes later.

At one point Sheriff Hogg and Chief Bowen, directing traffic nearby, noticed the golfer's performance and watched unbelievably as he sliced a ball neatly into the river. On the follow-through, his golf club came within inches of a wire that was still hot. He seemed not to notice.

SPRING IN CARCASSONNE -- like Spring all over Eastern Kentucky -- means dogwood, redbud, the sound of birds, and best of all, children playing outdoors. In Carcassonne recently, Appalachian Volunteer Jon Henrikson and VISTA Nancy Gigowski had a field day with the children of the community. At left: Betty Carol Smith races Sarah Mae Combs as Clifford Fields starts them off. Center: Nancy Gigowski distributes prizes to Betty Carol, Sarah Mae, Clifford, and L. B. Smith; at right, Jon Henrikson blows up a balloon for Betty Carol and Tommy Smith.

Committee action will cost county schools $125,000

Letcher County stands to lose about $125,000 in federal aid to schools as the result of a congressional committee's action this week.

County school officials estimated this was the amount above current federal aid which the school system would have received next year under a formula which gives more aid to poorer school districts. The formula was adopted by the last Congress but had never been put into effect. It was expected to take effect next fiscal year.

This week, however, the House Education and Labor Committee approved a proposed amendment to the law which would require that the new formula not go into effect until full financing of the Federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act is provided. Congress has authorized $2.4 billion for the ESEA Title I programs, but President Lyndon B. Johnson asked for only half that amount -- $1.2 billion -- in his budget message. Johnson cited the war in Vietnam as the reason for failure to request full financing for ESEA.

According to administration budget estimates, Kentucky would have received $34.1 million under the formula which favored schools in poor areas. This would have been 20 per cent more than last year. Letcher County is fifth highest in the state in the amount of ESEA funds received; the county's share of the money last year was about $500,000. Thus the school district had expected an extra $100,000 to $125,000 under the formula over and above last year's receipts.

Under the amendment approved by the committee, Kentucky will get about $28.2 million and Letcher County will not receive any sizable increase.

School officials do not anticipate having to cut any current programs financed by Title I but will not be able to put into effect all the programs they had hoped for.

Title I money in Letcher County is used for remedial reading, libraries, social services, physical training and other educational programs as well as for some buildings.

Washington news reports said the pressure for delaying application of the special aid formula came mostly from big cities and wealthier states which stand to gain little under the budget terms set by the President. These areas would, however, benefit from full financing of the ESEA program, and it was this which convinced their representatives to approve the formula last year.

Full financing of Title I using the formula would have brought $72 million into Kentucky schools -- more than twice what the state now receives.

Congressman Carl D. Perkins said there still is some chance the formula may be restored on the floor of the House, but he is not optimistic.

CAPT. GUY PALUMBO

CAPT. PALUMBO RECEIVES THREE MILITARY MEDALS

U. S. Air Force Captain Guy L. Palumbo, son of Mrs. John Palumbo Sr. of Whitesburg, has been decorated with three military medals at Keesler Air Force Base in Mississippi.

Capt. Palumbo was awarded the Air Medal, Bronze Star Medal, and Air Force Commendation Medal.

He received the Air Medal for meritorious achievement as a combat crew member in Southeast Asia. He was cited for his outstanding airmanship and courage on successful missions under hazardous conditions.

The Bronze Star was awarded for service as chief of safety in the 8th Tactical Fighter Wing at Ubon Royal Thai AFB, Thailand. Despite danger from hostile forces, he consistently demonstrated professional ability and sound judgment which contributed to the success of the United States Mission in Southeast Asia, according to Air Force sources.

Capt. Palumbo earned the Commendation Medal while assigned to the safety office in the 3510th Flying Training Wing at Randolph AFB, Texas.

Capt. Palumbo, a Korean War veteran, is now assigned at Keesler with the Air Training Command which operates the world's largest technical school system to train personnel for Air Force duty.

He received his commission in 1957, upon completion of Officer Candidate School.

Capt. Palumbo is a graduate of Whitesburg High School. He attended the University of Maryland European Division in Italy and Far East Division in Japan, and St. Mary's College in San Antonio during off duty hours.

His wife, Jewelene, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Adams of Whitesburg.

SENIORS ADVISED TO COMPLETE TESTS

Kentucky high school seniors who plan to enter the University of Kentucky next September and who have not taken the American College Testing program tests have been advised by the UK Admissions Office to contact their high school offices for application forms as soon as possible.

Keller Dunn, UK associate dean of admissions, explains that students must take the test no later than May 13, since tests given in August would be too late for students to apply for admission to the University's fall term. The application deadline is July 31, he said.

Those students who take the May 13 test must send their registration forms to the ACT national office in Chicago by April 22, Dunn added.

Wins scholarship

Alice Lloyd College has announced that Linda Addington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Addington of Thornton, Ky., has been awarded the Inez T. Flagg Scholarship.

Miss Addington was selected by the Alice Lloyd College Scholarship Committee for this award on the basis of her achievement record. A graduate of Whitesburg High School, Miss Addington is a sophomore at Alice Lloyd College and serves as dormitory housemother.

Alice Lloyd College will award a total of almost $300,000 in scholarships and grants during the 1966-67 academic year.

BETTE CAMPBELL

Wins honors

Miss Bette Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Campbell of Whitesburg, is on the Dean's List for the first semester at Virginia Intermont College, Bristol, Va. She is a freshman.

Miss Campbell is a member of the Home Economics Club, the Wesley Foundation, and Assistant Residence Counselor.

STUDENT LOAN FUNDS AVAILABLE

The State's guaranteed student loan fund still has plenty of money, but college students are beginning to cut into it, says Ted C. Gilbert, executive director of the Kentucky Council on Public Higher Education.

He says 1,516 students have obtained loans totaling $989,977, about 55 per cent of the money on hand.

There will be $2.6 million available through July 1, Gilbert says, when new federal money is received.

This reserve is enough for anticipated needs, including loans to students in vocational education, to be available around April 15, Gilbert says.

The program is financed by both federal and state money and is administered by the United Student Aid Funds, Inc., Indianapolis, Ind., a nonprofit organization.

FLOOD CONTROL METHODS STUDIED

More than $6 billion has been spent in the past thirty years on structural measures to control flooding, yet every year flood damage rises to a level that is almost incalculable. Many flood damaged areas do not warrant expensive dams, reservoirs, channel improvements or levees.

Today only one study of this type of flood area and a possible solution to its flood damage has been inaugurated -- a study now in its second year at the University of Kentucky, under the direction of Dr. Robert A. Lauderdale, director of the UK Water Resources Institute.

Dr. L. Douglas James, professor of civil engineering, conducting the project, is about two-thirds through the research.

The project was authorized under a $35,000 grant from the U. S. Office of Water Resources Research. Begun in the summer of 1965, the project is due to be completed late in 1968.

Dr. James has been assisted on the project by UK graduate students Clyde-Dempsey, Maysville; Thomas Rachford, Fort Mitchell; and James Villines, Madisonville.

Three types of Kentucky watersheds are being studied: Pond Creek in the rapidly urbanizing south fringe of Louisville, Jefferson County; the rich farmlands area along the Licking River near Cynthiana, Harrison County; and at Hazard in Perry County, which is frequently flooded because it is a lowlands town in a narrow mountain valley.

The UK study will analyze the alternative costs of structural flood control compared to those of diverting people and industry from moving into an area subject to costly flooding.

Cowan's blessings

A RESIDENT OF LETCHER COUNTY'S COWAN CREEK AREA DESCRIBES IMPROVEMENTS IN HER COMMUNITY

By MARIE F. DAY

So much has been said and written about Appalachia and about southeastern Kentucky in particular that I have come to hate the name and what it implies. I prefer that it be referred to as the Mountain Region -- so I shall refer to us as the mountainous area of southeastern Kentucky.

My purpose in writing this article is to count my blessings, and in so doing, it might help someone else count theirs, and cause us all to look upward a little more. We have been displayed to the rest of the world as a depressed area, Appalachia -- poverty-stricken illiterates who have no initiative, pride, or accomplishments. I wish to disprove this image and to show the good things we have achieved and the things we are doing for ourselves. In doing this, I have chosen the place and the people about whom I know and love the most -- Cowan.

My family came to Cowan when I was six years old. I remember it was a cold, rainy day in March, 1925. We had lived in Cumberland since I was a baby, but had moved into the house with my grandparents who were unable to care for themselves. My father came to Cowan and bought a small piece of property with a shack for a house and a small store on the property.

The day we came to Cowan I'll never forget. The rain was pouring, and I've never heard so many squeaking frogs in my life. Their squeaking was a steady roar. We were moving from my grandparents' home in a wagon, and all along the muddy, one-lane country road, whole bottom lands were swamps, calamus, swamp grass and frogs! I cried all the way for I can't ever remember a more dismal day in my entire life. Since that day, I've seen many changes come to Cowan, and now it is a part of me and I am a part of it. I feel it is good to be here. I am proud of our community, her achievements and accomplishments. I do not intend to write very much about the misfits and misfortunes that are with us, for I think we have already had too much of that. I think the major part of our community feel as I do about it, and they will be ready and willing to keep trying to build a higher and better civilization and community for our children to grow up in -- one in which those who have had to leave us, for different reasons, will be happy and anxious to return; one to which we will be proud to welcome any visitor or newcomer into our midst.

Cowan consists of approximately 7500 acres, and in this area there are five different spots where #1 soil is found. The Little Shepherd Trail, which is the only skyline drive in Kentucky, meanders through about nine miles of its length in Cowan territory. The Old Mountain Road, one of the oldest roadways in southeastern Kentucky, winds its entire length on Cowan to the top of the mountain, where it intersects the Little Shepherd Trail. The old road has been roughed out by the Division of Forestry to use as a fire trail at the present time. The main entrance to Kingdom Come, the setting for John Fox Jr.'s "Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," is located on Cowan. I'd like to see a modern marker, similar to the ones used by the Division of Forestry, placed here as an attraction to tourists and our community. The movie "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" is known all over the world, yet we let people of other localities use the trade mark which rightfully belongs to us and we are failing to make use of our most profitable assets.

Cowan has a two-lane asphalt highway #931, electricity, telephone, radio and TV facilities, daily milk delivery to the door, daily mail service and dry cleaning and laundry service twice a week.

In April, 1963, our one and two-room schools were consolidated into the new modern structure of Cowan Elementary School. The school contains 12 regular class rooms, a gymnasium, modern kitchen, and rest rooms. There are 12 regular teachers, one remedial reading center with one teacher and an aid; a music teacher, two days a week; a physical education program, three days weekly with the teacher's supervision; a library containing 1350 books, mostly new, with a full-time librarian; there are four cooks, two janitors, four bus drivers, and a secretary. Through the efforts of the P. T. A. and personal donations, the dream of a new piano and playground equipment became a reality. Their enrollment is 340 pupils, 90 per cent or more transported, and the daily average attendance is 90 per cent or better. Cowan Elementary School has produced a two-time winner quiz team of three third-graders who have appeared on station WCYB-TV, Bristol, Va. Since our school is only four years old, you can see we have accomplished quite a lot in a very short time. We are very proud of every accomplishment of Cowan Elementary.

I'm sure the following enumerations will both surprise and please you. If you haven't taken the time to count them yourself, you wouldn't believe there was this much on Cowan.

There are two mine operators employing about 85 people; one trucking company operating five pieces of equipment and employing six people; one construction company with one piece of heavy equipment; one heating and plumbing establishment; four plumbers and electricians; one dress shop, employing two or more; one car and body shop; a carpenter shop, a saw mill, and

HOW CAN WE GIVE YOU A 1000 MILE EXTENSION CORD?

We've got a system!

It takes more and more electricity to serve local needs every year. More in your home. More for industry. And more in reserve for the new business we want to settle here. In the next few years, millions more kilowatts will be needed.

But we'll be ready. For example, right now the world's most powerful transmission line is in the works. And a very special line it will be. It will carry 765,000 volts or five times as much as our present largest lines. This takes some doing. This 1000-mile extension cord will form another loop in our power system and provide more electricity for the future growth of the seven-state area served by our six companies.

Planning ahead for the growth of this area is another way we serve you better electrically.

It isn't easy to buy bean coffee!

Nowadays, very few stores offer you bean coffee.

Why does A&P still offer coffees in the bean?

Basically, because "We Care."

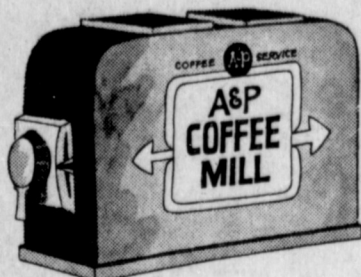

Specifically, because we know these facts:

The coffee bean is nature's seal that holds the flavor.

Once that seal is broken by grinding, flavor fades...

NO MATTER HOW IT'S PACKAGED.

The shorter the time between grinding the beans and brewing your coffee, the greater the flavor.

So if you want the finest cup of "The Think Drink" you've ever tasted, buy and brew one of A&P's three Bean Coffee blends...

Eight O'Clock, Red Circle or Bokar.

Not every store can offer you custom-ground bean coffee.

A&P can and does.

Shouldn't A&P be your store?

We have our Community Center, four churches, four stores, one veterinarian, one doctor, two post offices, two state mine inspectors, one field representative for Southern Labor Union, one VFW custodian, 18 teachers, one retired teacher, three beauticians, two barbers and one barber shop, two nurses, two librarians, several clerical workers, dozens of miners who are steadily employed and ten retired miners, two postal clerks and one postmistress, several clerks in stores, professional painters and carpenters, maintenance workers, social workers, mechanics, repairmen, one bricklayer, one mail carrier, fourteen students in college and three in vocational training, two recently completed secretarial training, one bank cashier, one insurance agent, two assistant engineers, eight merchants, one owner of Neon Gas Co. and one bookkeeper, and one circuit court clerk.

I believe I have enumerated the different occupations fairly accurately. Besides these, we have our housewives who do beautiful handwork, from quilts to hooked rugs. They do lovely crocheting, knitting, quilting, landscape painting and all types of sewing. They cook, can, freeze, bake, garden and many other things showing their initiative and ingenuity.

Let us not forget the part that Cowan has played and is still playing in the defense of our country. We have seven living World War I veterans, 30 World War II veterans and one killed in action; 34 men who have served in the Korean and Vietnamese wars up to the present time.

Most of the homes on Cowan have modern facilities, including TV, stereos, and washers and dryers. Very few are without running water and all the luxuries of vacuum cleaners, electric sewing machines, coffee pots, home movies and deep freezers. I'd say 90 per cent have a car of some type, and many have electric heat or a furnace.

I wish to thank those people who have helped me gather the material for this article, and I wish I could do a better job with it. However, where else in the world could you go to find so much? Here we have the peace and quiet or rural living, the variety, warmth and hospitality that only mountain people possess, the vitality, stamina and pride that comes from accomplishment; and the endurance and courage to go on when we've fought against such odds. Where else, except in the portion of southeastern Kentucky, in the small plot of 7500 acres known as Cowan?

Puckett selected

Airman James H. Puckett, whose mother lives in Jenkins, has been selected for technical training at Keesler AFB, Miss., as an Air Force communications specialist.

The airman recently completed basic training. He is a 1965 graduate of Jenkins High School.

Fields in training

Airman Raymond F. Fields, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kelsey Fields of Whitesburg, has been selected for technical training at Chanute AFB, Ill., as an Air Force aircraft maintenance specialist.

He is a graduate of Whitesburg High School.

Seven on dean's list

Seven Letcher County students were on the Dean's List of honor students for the fall semester at Eastern Kentucky University, according to Dr. Thomas F. Stovall, Vice President for Academic Affairs.

They will receive special citations from Dr. Robert Martin, Eastern President.

The Letcher County students: Danny H. Bates, of Blackey; George Caudill, of Carcassonne; Vernon Cornett, of Gordon; Katherine Davis and Susan J. Sexton, of Jenkins; Gary Call, of Tollesboro; and Sharon Garrett of Whitesburg.

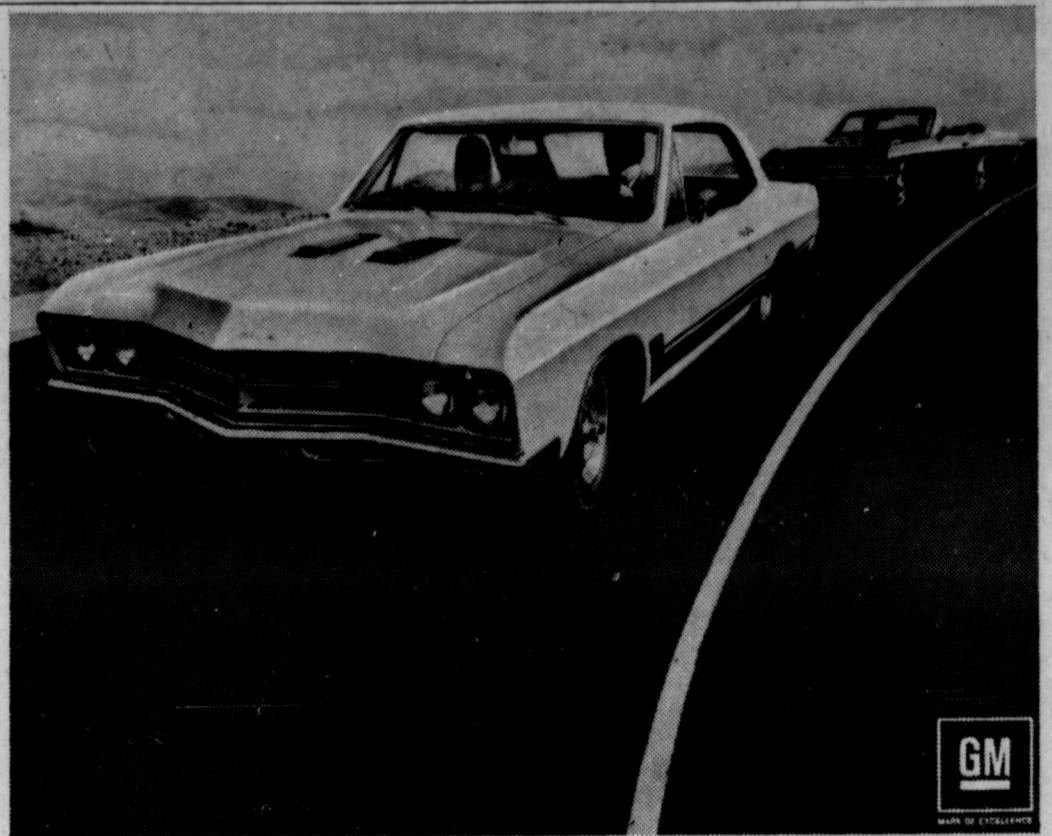

Art display planned

An exhibit of student art will be on display in the lobby of Cumberland College beginning April 7.

Pvt. Campbell finishes advanced training

Army Private Wade Cantrell, 22, son of Mrs. Ruth Cantrell of Cromona, Ky., completed eight weeks of advanced infantry training March 29 at Fort Ord, Calif.

He received instruction in small unit tactics and in firing such weapons as the M-14 rifle, the M-60 machine gun, and the 2.5-inch rocket launcher.

Announcing Buick's new GS-340.

(The minipriced GS-400.)

If you read the papers, you know how great our now-famous GS-400 is. (It's the one in the background.)

And you also know you don't get a GS-400 for peanuts. It's a great car. But it's just a little rich for some people.

So we set to work and designed the GS-340. It has a smaller engine (but the whole machine weighs less). Its interior is clean and simple and tasteful. And it has its own ornamentation, paint job (see the rally stripe and hood scoops?), and, of course, all the GM safety features.

So now you have a car that costs less than the GS-400, but one with its own special brand of excitement. How can you beat that kind of a combination?

F. BYRD HOGG

announces his candidacy for

State Representative

91st District (Letcher County)

in the Republican Primary

TO THE VOTERS AND CITIZENS OF LETCHER COUNTY, I wish to take this means to announce my candidacy for the office of State Representative.

Aside from what little money there is in it, which may or may not defray my expenses, my reasons for seeking this office are as follows:

- (1) To work to bring jobs to Letcher County; jobs that our people will be proud to hold. Jobs for our fathers and young men and women who are now having to leave in order to earn a decent living. Jobs with real wages to feed, clothe and educate our children.
- (2) To see that the families living in the heads of the hollows, branches and creeks have a good road to get out to the stores and shops to do their trading and attend our schools. The man up the hollow has been neglected, he does not have the means or the desire to speed to Lexington or Louisville for his business.
- (3) To streamline our tax collection laws by, among other things, stopping the practice of reading off the names of those who cannot pay their taxes, to the public in front of the Courthouse door and publishing their names in a newspaper. It is an archaic law and all it does is embarrass and shame our people, who for some reason or other, cannot pay their taxes on time.
- (4) To provide a system of Workmen's Compensation Insurance, state supported if necessary, that will protect the men in the mines and other high risk jobs, where the present cost of such insurance is prohibitive.

(5) To seek lawful ways and means of removing the inequities that exist under the "Broad Form" deed between the owners of the surface and mineral. One must not be allowed to run rough-shod over the rights of others.

(6) To advance the cause of education by securing for our teachers a salary for twelve months of the year, not just nine. A good teacher's job does not end when school goes out. In addition to innumerable details that must be seen to before and after a school term, there is the teacher's dignity and respect that must be maintained twelve months of the year.

(7) To insure to the tax payers of this County the greatest return possible on every tax dollar that goes to Frankfort.

(8) To provide for those who are involved in automobile accidents with uninsured motorists, a fund or system of insurance from which all claims for damages and injuries may be paid.

(9) Last, but not least, to obtain for my personal use, complimentary tickets to all the University of Kentucky football and basketball games, that are given to State Representatives.

Your Vote and Influence will be appreciated.

The musical program for the evening was presented by a youth combo, "The Realistics." The Women's Society of Christian Service served the dinner. The Kiwanians were celebrating their 28th birthday.

The Women's Civic Club met April 4 in the Jenkins Library. Mrs. James Gray presented the program on "Steps to New Spring Beauty."

Workers to be away

Eight field workers from the Letcher County Public Assistance office will attend a training session in Lexington the week of April 24-28.

They are Mabel Buttrey, Goldie Gibson, Willard Gilliam, Viola Moore, Nadina Osborne, Nick Wright, Jeanette Ladd and Colleen Brashears.

Since both workers responsible for certifying food stamp recipients are in the group, those persons who are scheduled to be recertified for food stamps during this time should visit the Public Assistance office immediately, according to Mrs. Lela Bentley, senior social worker. Mrs. Bentley said the staff had tried to avoid scheduling persons to come in for recertification during the period when the workers will be away, but some persons may have been told to come in at that time several months ago before the date of the training session was known.

Millstone MANY CHILDREN RETURN HOME FOR SPRINGTIME VISITS WITH FOLKS

By MABEL KISER

Easter has come and gone, and our gone-away children who came to visit have left again, and all the grandparents are very lonesome. While I walked about the yard Sunday evening, the old owl upon the hill sympathized with me and said, "Yooo whoo, I am lonesome too."

Weekend guests of Ed Baker were his son, Carl, and his son from Michigan. While here, they planted some potatoes.

Judy Carol Baker of Washington, D. C., was here over the Easter Holidays for a visit with her parents, the Leonard Bakers. Judy works for the FBI in Washington. Other guests of the Bakers were his brother, Martin Baker and his family, and Mrs. Baker's sister and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Webb of Mayking.

Mrs. Josie May is improving after suffering a bout with pneumonia in the Whitesburg Hospital.

Uncle Ben Franklin is no better and Ben Bentley is very seriously ill. Both are at the Jenkins Hospital.

Mrs. Otho Bentley (Nan) is home from Dayton for a summer vacation. Visiting her were her children, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bentley and Fred Jr. of Dayton; Mr. and Mrs. Curwood Blair and daughter Cathy and granddaughter Janice from Detroit; Jerry and Allen Bentley of Detroit; Jerry Wayne of Dayton and Jimmy Bentley of Detroit (Jimmy is on a ten-week vacation and spent the first two weeks with his sailor brother, Otho Jr., in Norfolk, Va.); Mr. and Mrs. Can Bentley and children Debby, Pamela, Can Jr. and Jamie of Cleveland; Teddy Bentley of Indianapolis; Ralph Green and children, Mark and Cheri of Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. Velt Potter of Whitesburg; Mrs. Lake Pass and Mrs. James Caudill of Neon; Otho Bentley Jr. and his wife from Norfolk, Va.

The Curwood Blairs have a new grandson, Joseph Raymond. This is the first son of Mr. and Mrs. Artt Cantrell of 6422 Hanson, Detroit. They have a daughter, Angela, 2 1/2. The only other grandchild is Jeanette, daughter of Mrs. Jeanette Lynn, also of Detroit. The parental grandmother is Mrs. Alma Cantrell of Detroit.

Joe Bates and his wife, of Norfolk, Va., are visiting relatives in Letcher.

Easter Holiday guests of the S. E. Coles of Sergeant were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Basham of Fleming; Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Morgan of Kettering, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Webb and two daughters, Maureen and Melissa, of Cincinnati; Jack Jenkins and daughter Karen of Irvine.

Mrs. Hattie Proffitt of Colson was happy to have visit her Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Sherd Martin of Millstone; Mrs. Leonard Collins and daughter, Lena Hall and Mrs. May Holbrook and her sister's daughter, Ruth, from Rockcastle County.

Mrs. Gladys Kincer of Neon was responsible for having the Collinses Cemetery at Colson cleaned so well this Spring.

Guests of the Sherd Martins last weekend were their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Allen and their son Jeffrey of Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kiser and son Don were here this week to bring Mrs. Kiser's parents, the Lawrence Kings, back home after they had been visiting their children in Detroit. Another member of the King family was killed in a car wreck this week. William Antes was killed on the expressway in Detroit after a front tire blew out. William is the son in law of Woodrow King. He and his wife have three children under five years old.

Sunday dinner guests of the Sherd Martins were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stone, Elder and Mrs. Ballard Meade, and Jr. of Fleming, Elder Orville Tackett of Virgie.

Mrs. Shirley Hall Stidham of Millstone has joined her soldier husband, Charles, in Alaska. She flew from Louisville by jet.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hayse (Avalene) of Kent were here last week for a visit with her parents and to see his sister, who is very ill.

Mrs. Lillie Adams of Whitaker is very ill in the Harlan Hospital. Surgery is planned this week for her.

How many of you told your children the true story of Easter?

Weekend guests of Mrs. Minnie Kiser of Kona were her children, Sailor and Mrs. R. P. Kiser of Knoxville, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jackson and son Thomas of Jackhorn, Mrs. Charles Kiser and her daughters Pebble and Mabelle; Donice Fleming and son Scotty Ray, all of Cincinnati. The girls left Sunday and called back to tell their mother that they got home all right and told her that they had seen 15 car wrecks on the way back to Cincinnati.

Mrs. Ollie Evans came home this week after spending several weeks in Danville with her daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Crane, and their new baby, Jeanne. The Crances accompanied Mrs. Evans home. Mrs. Evans' dog, who is 15 years old, was so glad to see her. He rolled over and over to show his gladness to have her home. But the joy was just too much for his old heart to stand, for he died just three days later.

Mr. and Mrs. Garry Meade of Morehead were here this week for a visit with the Bill Days and the Jesse Meades of Neon. Other guests of the Bill Days were Mrs. Bert Webb and daughter Jennie and Senja Breeding of Indianapolis and Mrs. Sylvan Potter of Cincinnati.

Our children were here for Easter. Mr. and Mrs. William Harold, Pamela, Michael and Timmy from Louisville, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bentley, Ronald, Jeanie, Jessica and Robert from Cleveland. The Bentleys stayed for a week. We enjoyed the children so much but it is so lonesome when they leave. The children love to hike through the hills, so we all went to the Cain Rock, which is high on the hill above the Goldenrod Picnic Area. The children loved the hike so much, but to me, who loved to roam through the woods 40 years ago, the trip was just a little stiff.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Wright (Joan Hall) and children Carla and twin boys are here from Cleveland this week for a visit with her parents, the Lawson Halls. Mrs. Ollie Wright came down with them and is visiting her sister, Mrs. Cindy Cook.
